

NORTHERN INYO HOSPITAL
Staff Development Department
COURSE ANNOUNCEMENT

All courses are subject to change.

Check the NIH website for the most current information

www.nih.org

COURSE TITLE:	Public Health Update and Summertime Hazards
DATE:	Wednesday, June 23, 2010
TIME:	1230 - 1330
PLACE:	NIH Board Room
INSTRUCTOR:	Richard O. Johnson, M.D., MPH
CONTACT HOURS:	1
FEE:	$5 payable at the time of the class. No fee for NIH/MH employees or if continuing education credit is not desired. A refund will be given when applicable.
COURSE DESCRIPTION:	This course is designed to provide the participant updated information regarding the status of novel influenza virus strains and emerging infectious diseases affecting local populations.
COURSE OBJECTIVES:	At the conclusion of this course the participant will be able to: 1. Discuss the current status of the H1N1 pandemic. 2. List three signs/symptoms suspicious for pertussis infection. 3. Discuss the epidemiology of rabies. 4. Name two other vector –borne diseases on the local watch list.
EVALUATION OF STUDENT:	Class Participation

Provider approved by the California Board of Registered Nurses, Provider #02458 and EMSA/ICEMA provider # 62-0079 for (1) contact hours. Provider approved for California Licensed Clinical Laboratory Personnel by Accrediting Agency #0138 for (1) contact hours. This course meets the requirements for CE for RCPS in California. (1) contact hours.